So much to see! Oya: 'the Home of Stone'

Located northwest of Utsunomiya, Oya 'the Home of Stone' is the center for the production of Oya Stone, quarried only here. Here can be found the huge underground cavern, as large as Tokyo Dome, known as the Oya Historical Museum, and the Oya Kannon (Oya-ji Temple), the oldest stone buddha in Japan. This is a spot that offers you a unique time: see the many rock formations, visit the 27m-high Heiwa Kannon Statue, or a workshop where you can try your hand at making a keepsake in Oya Stone. In the centre of Utsunomiya there is lots more to see: Futaarayama Shrine, the highest-ranking shrine in the Shimotsuke area; Matsugamine Catholic Church, built of Oya Stone; the Utsunomiya 'antenna shop' Miya Cafe; and Kirasse, a theme park for the famous Utsunomiya gyoza dumpling.
